OUTCOMES

What you will achieve

By the end of the Hazelcast course path, you will be able to:

1

Build fast data layers

Use Hazelcast distributed data structures and caching patterns to speed up applications.

2

Process data in real time

Create streaming pipelines with windowing, connectors and fault-tolerant jobs.

3

Operate resilient clusters

Secure, monitor, scale and replicate Hazelcast clusters on servers and Kubernetes.

WHAT THE FOUNDATION LEVEL ADDS

In-memory computing concepts, cluster setup and IMap

Hands-on: Start a cluster and cache data. Run a three-member Hazelcast cluster in Docker, connect Java and Python clients and store, read and expire data in a distributed map.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Beginners and working professionals who are new to Hazelcast and want a solid, hands-on start.
- Engineers, analysts, testers and students preparing to use Hazelcast on real work.
- Leads and managers who want first-hand familiarity with Hazelcast.

BEFORE YOU START

- No prior Hazelcast experience is needed.
- Basic computer skills and a laptop with a stable internet connection for the live sessions and labs.
- This curriculum includes every earlier level, so it is complete on its own.

AGENDA · FOUNDATION

Hazelcast Foundation Training agenda

11 topics. Each level builds on the one before it, so this curriculum lists every earlier level in full. Days are for corporate (day-wise) delivery; live online batches cover the same agenda in max 8-10 hours.

DAY 1 — Foundation: In-memory computing concepts, cluster setup and IMap

New at this level

1. In-memory computing concepts: distributed caching, data grids and stream processing
2. Hazelcast Platform overview: community and enterprise editions and Hazelcast Cloud
3. Architecture: members, clients, partitions (271 by default), partition table and backups
4. Deployment topologies: embedded members versus client-server mode
5. Installation: ZIP distribution, Docker image, Homebrew and the hz CLI
6. Configuration basics: hazelcast.yaml and XML, cluster name, network ports and programmatic config
7. Cluster discovery: multicast, TCP/IP member lists and cloud and Kubernetes discovery
8. Starting a cluster: running members, joining nodes and reading the cluster logs
9. IMap fundamentals: put, get, remove, putIfAbsent and TTL per entry
10. Clients: Java, Python, Node.js, Go and .NET clients connecting to the cluster
11. Management Center: installing it and viewing members, maps and partitions
