OUTCOMES

What you will achieve

By the end of the Opentracing course path, you will be able to:

1

Understand distributed tracing

Explain spans, context propagation and the OpenTracing data model in real systems.

2

Instrument services correctly

Add consistent, tested tracing to services in several languages and protocols.

3

Modernise tracing at scale

Bridge and migrate to OpenTelemetry and operate governed trace pipelines with smart sampling.

WHAT THE FOUNDATION LEVEL ADDS

Tracing concepts, OpenTracing data model and Jaeger

Hands-on: Trace a request across two services. Run Jaeger all-in-one, instrument a frontend and a backend service with OpenTracing, propagate context over HTTP and inspect the resulting trace timeline.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Beginners and working professionals who are new to Opentracing and want a solid, hands-on start.
- Engineers, analysts, testers and students preparing to use Opentracing on real work.
- Leads and managers who want first-hand familiarity with Opentracing.

BEFORE YOU START

- No prior Opentracing experience is needed.
- Basic computer skills and a laptop with a stable internet connection for the live sessions and labs.
- This curriculum includes every earlier level, so it is complete on its own.

AGENDA · FOUNDATION

Opentracing Foundation Training agenda

11 topics. Each level builds on the one before it, so this curriculum lists every earlier level in full. Days are for corporate (day-wise) delivery; live online batches cover the same agenda in max 8-10 hours.

DAY 1 — Foundation: Tracing concepts, OpenTracing data model and Jaeger

New at this level

1. Why distributed tracing: requests crossing many services, latency attribution and limits of logs and metrics alone
2. OpenTracing project history: CNCF origins, the vendor-neutral API idea, the 2019 merger into OpenTelemetry and archival
3. Data model: traces, spans, operation names, start and finish timestamps and span duration
4. Span relationships: SpanContext, ChildOf and FollowsFrom references
5. Tags, logs and baggage: span tags for indexing, timestamped span logs and request-scoped baggage items
6. Tracer interface: StartSpan options, GlobalTracer registration and the no-op tracer
7. Context propagation: Inject and Extract with text map, HTTP headers and binary carriers
8. Jaeger architecture: client, agent, collector, query service and storage, and Jaeger v2 on the OpenTelemetry Collector
9. Jaeger all-in-one: running it in Docker, opening the UI and searching traces by service and tags
10. First trace: instrumenting a hello world service in Go or Python with an OpenTracing-compatible tracer
11. Two-service trace: propagating context over HTTP and viewing the parent and child spans in Jaeger

PRACTICE

Hands-on labs

You build these yourself during the course, guided by the trainer.

FOUNDATION

Trace a request across two services

Run Jaeger all-in-one, instrument a frontend and a backend service with OpenTracing, propagate context over HTTP and inspect the resulting trace timeline.
